Donation to the Injury Control and Emergency Health Services Section

Many of us donate to charitable organizations at this time each year and reap the associated tax benefits. Please consider ICEHS when selecting among deserving organizations to donate to this year.

The Injury Control and Emergency Health Services (ICEHS) Section of APHA includes a diverse group of professionals interested in unintentional injury control, violence prevention, emergency health services and emergency preparedness. Our activities include holding an annual conference with over 150 scientific sessions, recognizing and awarding professionals working in the field, serving on national committees and working groups, and producing a section newsletter.

We thank you for your interest in supporting ICEHS. Please mark the amount of your donation and the area in which you wish the donation to be spent. Also, please make your check payable to APHA and note in the memo section that it is for ICEHS.
