Protecting Pedestrians on the Move (PPM)

The Georgia State University Protecting Pedestrians on the Move (PPM) project will improve pedestrian safety in the Georgia State University/downtown area by investigating, advocating, influencing, educating, and promoting improvements to the pedestrian/road physical environment, regulation, enforcement, and behaviors in pedestrians and motor vehicle operators. They intend to influence those who make decisions regarding pedestrian safety factors to ensure that the prevention of injury and the promotion of safe, healthful walking is considering as a top priority in the campus/downtown environment.
