Networking is a prime reason why many people attend APHA's Annual Meeting and Expo. APHA 2020 may have moved to a virtual setting, but you will find familiar social events as well as new and fun ways to connect with your peers. Most of these networking and engagement activities will take place before or after sessions and won't compete with educational content! Here are some of the opportunities to connect virtually with thousands of your peers:

Meet New People and Mix Up Your Learning

Mix and Mingle Lounge (MML)
The MML is one of the most dynamic spaces at the meeting. Attendees come to make new connections, chat with friends, relax between sessions and engage in quick public health activities.

This year, we're offering:
Speed Networking | Sustainable Artistic Projects | Morning Coffee Chats | Public Health Trivia | Public Health Bingo

Geeks Meet
Join the public health geek squad for post-session discussions and in-depth conversations about critical issues in the field.

Discussion topics include:
Climate Change | COVID-19 | Violence Prevention | Opioids | And more

Wellness Center
Relax, refresh and renew with a mix of live and on-demand activities that focus on physical and mental wellness. All activities offer inclusive modifications.

Some scheduled activities include:
Yoga | Tai Chi | Meditation and Relaxation | Gliding
For Everyone: Adaptive Ice Skating | Step N Friends | Zumba | Virtual Pet Play Date | And more

Social Media Lab
Learn new and trending information and best practices for using social media to advance public health. Attendees can schedule a free one-on-one consultation with an expert or attend a dynamic 15-minute theater presentation.

We're covering topics like:
Reelz vs. Stories | Combating misinformation on social media: Lessons from COVID-19 | How to make your Twitter chat a slam dunk | And more
