Schools and Programs of Public Health

Strengthen your students’ education with an APHA membership
APHA membership is the perfect complement to the education your students receive in the classroom. Membership offers them instant access to the professional world of public health, which comes with considerable opportunities for mentorship, career networking and self-directed learning. APHA membership gives them a chance to meet fellow public health students from around the nation and world via APHA’s Student Assembly, the nation’s largest student-led organization dedicated to serving public health students. Membership in APHA offers them a chance to connect with leaders in the field and develop leadership skills of their own. And importantly, APHA membership gives students a voice in shaping the future of our field.
FOR NEARLY 150 YEARS, APHA has dedicated itself to the enhancement of public health knowledge and practice. We know that lifelong learning is essential to everything public health does. That’s why we are committed to providing our members, from students to seasoned professionals, with the resources they need to stay on the cutting edge of health promotion, protection and innovation. Those resources come in many forms, from our renowned peer-reviewed public health journal to our worldwide network of more than 25,000 members, to our reputation as a leading legislative and policy advocate. However, there’s one overriding goal to everything we do: to help create communities in which all people have the opportunity to live long, healthy lives. We know you — the nation’s schools and programs of public health — have that very same goal.

SCHOOL-SPONSORED STUDENT MEMBERSHIP

This special membership is just for you. It lets your students fully engage in APHA’s global community and reap the benefits of an association that represents all public health disciplines.

We want to help you graduate students who are ready to face the challenges before us, but who are also steeped in the core principles and competencies that lead to public health achievements. APHA membership is a great way to prepare your students for the ever-evolving world of public health and encourage lifelong learning.
WHO’S ELIGIBLE, AND HOW DOES IT WORK?

If you’re a school or program of public health, you can take advantage of discounted APHA membership rates for your students. Here’s how:

Option 1: Purchase APHA memberships for your students at the low price of $57 per student, which represents a 33% discount from our typical student membership rate.

Option 2: Purchase APHA memberships based on the mean number of students times the discounted rate of $57 per student.

Both options include a complimentary APHA membership to one faculty member for every 100 student memberships.

WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS?

In addition to APHA member benefits such as online access to the American Journal of Public Health and award-winning The Nation’s Health newspaper, your students will also enjoy:

- membership in APHA’s Student Assembly;
- membership in two of dozens of APHA Sections, where they can network with public health professionals around the nation;
- special discounts on APHA books and publications;
- a student discount when registering for APHA’s Annual Meeting & Expo, the world’s largest gathering of public health professionals;
an opportunity to present their scholarly research at the APHA Annual Meeting and reach an audience of thousands;

access to APHA’s Public Health CareerMart, where they can browse job listings and post resumes, as well as savings on career services;

a specialized organizing toolkit for our yearly celebration of National Public Health Week; and tailored resources for participating in APHA’s Speak for Health Campaign, which is the perfect way for students to learn about the legislative process and practice their advocacy skills.

At APHA, we’re working hard every day to help public health workers adapt, evolve and prepare for the challenges of the future. We look forward to doing the same for your students — our future public health leaders.
