*Strengthen your students'
education with an APHA
membership*

AMERICAN PUBLIC HEALTH ASSOCIATION
For science. For action. For health.

APHA membership is the perfect complement to the education your students receive in the classroom. Membership offers them instant access to the professional world of public health, which comes with considerable opportunities for mentorship, career networking and self-directed learning. APHA membership gives them a chance to meet fellow public health students from around the nation and world via APHA's Student Assembly, which is now the nation's largest student-led organization dedicated to serving public health students. Membership in APHA offers them a chance to connect with leaders in the field and develop leadership skills of their own. And importantly, APHA membership gives students a voice in shaping the future of our field.

FOR MORE THAN 145 YEARS, APHA has dedicated itself to the enhancement of public health knowledge and practice. We know that lifelong learning opportunities are essential to everything public health does, from the everyday to the extraordinary. That's why we are committed to providing our members, from students to seasoned professionals, with the resources they need to stay on the cutting-edge of health promotion, protection and innovation. Those resources come in many forms, from our renowned peer-reviewed public health journal to our network of tens of thousands of members worldwide, to our reputation as a leading legislative and policy advocate.

However, there's one overriding goal to everything we do: to help create communities in which all people have the opportunity to live long, healthy lives. We know you — the nation's schools and programs of public health — have that very same goal.

That's why we offer a special membership opportunity just for you and your students. We want to make it as easy as possible for your students to fully engage in APHA's global public health community and reap the benefits of an association that represents the broad diversity of public health disciplines. We want to help you graduate students who are ready to face the many challenges before us, but who are also steeped in the core principles and competencies that lead to public health's greatest achievements.

APHA membership is one of the best ways to prepare your students for the ever-evolving world of public health and support them in lifelong learning.

WHO'S ELIGIBLE, HOW DOES IT WORK & WHAT ARE THE BENEFITS?

If you're a school or program of public health, you can now take advantage of discounted APHA membership rates for your students. Here's how it works:

Payment option 1: As an eligible school or program, you can purchase APHA memberships for your students at the low price of $57 per student, which represents a 33% discount from our typical student membership rate.

Payment option 2: An eligible school or program can purchase APHA memberships based on the average number of students reflected in the sliding scale below. These prices are also based on the discounted rate of $57 per student.

Both options include a complimentary APHA membership to one faculty member for every 100 student memberships.

STUDENT BODY	AVERAGE	COST OF MEMBERSHIP
0–100	50	$2,850
101–200	150	$8,550
201–300	250	$14,250
301–500	400	$22,800
501–800	650	$37,050
801–1200	1,000	$57,000
1,201–1,700+	1,450	$82,650

In addition to APHA membership benefits such as online access to the American Journal of Public Health and award-winning The Nation's Health newspaper, your students will also enjoy:

- membership in APHA's Student Assembly;
- the opportunity to join and participate in two of APHA's many member-driven Sections, which are divided by public health discipline, and a chance to get involved in APHA's Special Primary Interest Groups, Forums and Caucuses;
- a student discount when registering for APHA's Annual Meeting and Expo, which has grown to become one the world's largest gatherings of public health professionals;
- an opportunity to present their scholarly research at the APHA Annual Meeting and reach an audience of thousands;
- special discounts on APHA books and publications;
- access to APHA's Public Health CareerMart, where they can browse job listings and post resumes, as well as discounts on career services;

- a specialized organizing toolkit for our yearly celebration of National Public Health Week; and
- tailored resources for participating in APHA's annual Public Health Action (PHACT) Campaign, which is the perfect way for students to learn about the legislative process and practice their advocacy skills.

At APHA, we're working hard every day to help public health workers adapt, evolve and prepare for the challenges of the future. We look forward to doing the same for your students — our future public health leaders.

VISION

Create the healthiest nation in one generation

MISSION

Improve the health of the public and achieve equity in health status

The American Public Health Association champions the health of all people and all communities. We strengthen the public health profession. We speak out for public health issues and policies backed by science. We are the only organization that influences federal policy, has a nearly 150-year perspective and brings together members from all fields of public health. APHA publishes the American Journal of Public Health and The Nation's Health newspaper. At our Annual Meeting and Expo, thousands of people share the latest public health research. We lead public awareness campaigns such as Get Ready and National Public Health Week. Together, we are creating the healthiest nation in one generation. Learn more at www.apha.org
